

Exercise 11.

The deviance will always decrease any time a covariate is added. The lowest deviance is obtained by selecting the most complex model. At the extreme, this gives the saturated model, which is clearly sub-optimal.